Obtaining a Social Security Number

If your visa status permits you to work in the United States and you decide to pursue employment you will be required to obtain a U.S. social security number. However, remember the following:

A. You should first secure an offer of employment before requesting a social security number.
B. If you accept an offer of employment and get a Social Security Number as a benefit of that employment, please conduct yourself professionally and honor your commitment to the position you have accepted.
C. Once you have a social security number, it will never expire. Even if your employment is discontinued or you leave the United States for a few years and return, you will keep the same number.

For additional information you may visit the Social Security Administration’s (SSA) website at or call 800-772-1213.
